Miss A. Yuill Honored by Provincial Red Cross

Proposed for Honorary Membership for Her Work During Past Twenty Years With Junior Red Cross

A signal honor was bestowed on one of Coleman's most popular public school teachers, and whose name is synonymous with Junior Red Cross work in Coleman, at annual meeting of the provincial Red Cross held in Calgary, Feb. 26, when Miss A. Yuill was proposed for honorary membership in the association for her work for twenty years with the Junior Red Cross.

From the time Miss Yuill took over her duties as principal of Cameron school in 1923 she has been very active in Junior Red Cross work and the many hundreds of students who have passed through her grades during the intervening years have been taught well the lesson of aiding their fellowmen.

In addition to her Junior Red Cross work at Cameron school she is an active worker in the local senior branch and is constantly knitting or sewing in this branch's behalf. During the past few school holidays she has spent her vacations at Calgary provincial headquarters where her help has been gratefully accepted by Commissioner Tomlinson and his staff.

Cameron school Junior Red Cross, which Miss organized twenty years ago, is the oldest Junior Red Cross in Alberta and probably the most active.

Her Red Cross workers and her many friends congratulate her in receiving this distinguished honor.

Miss D. Geneva Lent, of Calgary, was also proposed for honorary membership for her splendid work in regards to the crippled children's hospital.

Lions Have Discussion On Post-War Re-Construction

Members Have Many Pet Theories on Subject; Guests Took Part in Discussions

Coleman Lions were given an insight into the vastness of the problem on Post War Reconstruction on Monday evening when it was the subject of a round table discussion at the regular supper-meeting. Guests present were Rev. J. R. Hague and Councillor W. Dutil.

Discussion was under leadership of A. Balloch who called upon various members to give their theory on different points on post-war reconstruction. The vastness of the subject soon becomes apparent to all when practically everyone touched on one or more phases of post war reconstruction.

A number had given the subject much study and since time did not permit to go too deeply into the matter it is very probable that the subject will again be discussed at a later meeting.

CARD OF THANKS

"Through the columns of your paper we express our gratitude to the Officers and Members of Coleman Local Union No. 2633 U.M.W. of A. for a generous donation in support of Institute services which reached us in today's mail.

Our thanks to your business and professional men of Coleman who supported our work in 1943 has already been expressed.

BILL UKRAINETZ GAINS PROMOTION AT MONTREAL

Bill Ukrainetz, former local young man who went to Montreal shortly after the outbreak of war to work at a war plant, has recently been promoted to the position of assistant foreman at the Fairbanks Airplane factory at Montreal.

He, along with two other employees, were only recently picked out as the three most efficient employees in the plant which numbers in the vicinity of thirty to forty thousand workers. Montreal papers carried the pictures of the three men.

Bellevue Soldiers Win Military Medals

Pte. J. G. Milnes and Pte. T. J. Price Play Heroic Roles in Italian Fighting

Two Bellevue men have been awarded the Military Medal for valor according to an announcement made by the Minister of National Defence. They are Pte. (Acting Corporal) John Goodwin Milnes and Pte. (Acting Corporal) Thomas James Price. The awards to the Bellevue men were two of fifty nine new awards won by Canadian soldiers.

Was Mine Employee A/Cpl. John Goodwin Milnes, M.M. Private (Acting Corporal) John Goodwin Milnes, M-11226, Canadian Infantry Corps, was born at Denaby, Yorkshire, England, May 10, 1916. He later moved to Bellevue, Alta., where he was employed as a miner.

He enlisted with the Active Army September 25, 1939. His mother, Mrs. Vina Hutton, lives at Bellevue, Alta. Pte. Milnes is a cousin of Mrs. Gabe D'Amico and Andrew Charlesworth, of Coleman.

His citation reads: "At first light on October 23, 1943, the Loyal Edmonton Regiment was attacking the town of Colle D'Anchise, 'A' Company's objective being a high feature immediately north and adjacent to the town. Numbers 7 and 8 Platoons had reached their objectives completely surprising the enemy. Number 9 Platoon, in which Pte. Milnes commanded a section, was temporarily prevented from moving forward by severe and concentrated enemy machine fire coming from the right flank.

"Cpl. Milnes obtained permission from his platoon commander to place his section in charge of the second-in-command, and volunteered to remove the enemy machine gun. Permission was granted and this non-commissioned officer displaying outstanding skill and fieldcraft, advanced 200 yards over very open ground and up a steep cliff to within close range of the German gun. He silenced the enemy machine gun, capturing one prisoner and killing two other Germans in the action. This gallant deed allowed the remainder of this section and the platoon to attain their objective."

Corporal T. J. Price, M.M. Corporal Thomas James Price, 22 of Bellevue, Alberta, enlisted in the Canadian Army February 24, 1941. A member of the Canadian Armoured Corps, Cpl. Price reached his present rank October 24, 1943, after having proceeded overseas in 1941. He was sent to the North African theatre of war August of 1943. His wife, Mrs. Peggy Jean Helen Price, lives at 63 Afriston Road, Seaford, Sussex, England, while his mother, Mrs. Thomas Price, lives at Bellevue, Alberta. He was a truck driver and baker's helper in pre-war days.

Received Verdict And Sentence In Stunned Silence; To Hang In Lethbridge Jail

Crown Prosecutor Literally Tears Accused's Statement to Pieces—Defence Counsel Pleaded Provocation by Victim in Effort to Save Accused from Death Sentence.

Peter Abramowicz, 49-year-old timber packer at International Coal & Coal Co., Ltd., Coleman, self-confessed axe slayer of 39-year-old widowed mother of four children, Veronica Zahorjko, of Lethbridge, in his three-roomed house in East Coleman in the early hours of Tuesday, January 25, will pay the penalty by hanging in Lethbridge jail on Thursday, May 25.

The verdict, after two hours deliberation by a six-man jury declaring him guilty at the conclusion of two days trial in Supreme Court in Macleod, was concurred in by Mr. Justice Tweedie, after asking the accused if he had anything to say before sentence should be passed to which through his interpreter, Stephen Janosak, he replied in the negative, passed sentence in the breathless silence of the court, whereby "you will be kept in close confinement in Lethbridge Jail, and on May 25th hanged by the neck till you are dead, and may God have mercy on your soul."

Accused received the verdict and sentence in stunned silence, as if he failed to grasp the full import of the extreme penalty. 15 minutes after he was hurried off by R.C.M.P. police escort to Lethbridge, with handcuffs, upon his wrists. It will be the first execution there since three bandits were hanged over 17 years ago for the slaying of a taxi driver on the Calgary-Macleod highway.

HISTORY OF EVENTS

Accused, of Polish nationality, came to Canada in 1929. As a miner, he worked at Lethbridge, and following the death of Veronica's husband five years ago, lived with her in her Lethbridge home as her husband. In 1942 he came to work at Coleman, occupying a house in East Coleman. Veronica and the children subsequently came there and stayed in the house until about two months before Christmas 1943, when with the children she moved into a small shack apart from accused. Before Christmas she moved back to Lethbridge, occupying her home there, and Abramowicz occasionally visited there, giving her money and helping to support the family.

On the night of January 24 she came to Coleman by train, arriving at accused's house about 2:30 a.m. on Jan. 25, taking with her a bottle of whiskey which accused had purchased while he visited her in Lethbridge. She was last seen alive by Mr. and Mrs. George Elashuk, who came in on the same train after visiting a daughter in Lethbridge. Veronica parted with them near the Ukrainian hall, nearby accused's house.

QUARREL STARTED IN BED

After drinking some of the whiskey, they went to bed, accused in his statement stating they were good friends. Later accused saw Veronica get up, turn on the electric light, and go to his suit case to look for something. From this on a quarrel developed, and according to accused, Veronica went and picked up an axe, stating "I kill you." Accused, wretched the axe from her, saying "I kill you."

He then hit her a terrific blow on the head with the axe, then on the other side, each blow on the head was sufficient to cause death. He left her body lying in the kitchen, then went back to bed, but could not sleep.

Evidence of witnesses, nearby neighbors, saw accused that morning about 10 o'clock (Jan. 25) locking his house, dressed in his good clothes, carrying a suitcase. He asked George Elashuk if Veronica came in on the same train as himself and wife the night before. He then said that she had been called for by friends from Bellevue and taken there in a car, that he had missed the morning bus, and would go there in the afternoon on the train.

Mrs. Elashuk, whose home was next to accused's, stated that he asked her for a loan of $10 before going to town. John Lusk, John Stanewicz and another miner told of having a meal in Coleman Cafe shortly after noon when accused told them he was quitting his job at the mine. Joe Lipowski, owner of the Coleman hotel, stated accused had a couple of beers, then left for the train, after asking to borrow ten dollars. As the train was about twenty minutes late, he came back and had a couple more beers. No inkling of the crime had leaked out, and accused left on the train.

Arriving in Lethbridge, he went to the home of the dead woman, and told the children that his mother had gone on to Calgary to do some shopping, for which he had given her $300. He also told Stella, 13-year-old daughter of Veronica, that her mother had

Curling Club Invites Edmonton Juniors To Play Here

Have Sent Team Manager Letter to Find Out if Interested Proceeds Would go to Building Fund.

Coleman Curling Club is endeavoring to have Edmonton Canadian juniors stop off at Coleman on their way back from Trail and play an exhibition game against an All Star team. The game would have the added attraction of three Coleman youths on the Canadian line-up, they being Slugg, Rypien and Hods.

A letter has been sent manager Ken Henry asking if he is interested. Should the game be arranged vice-president, George Jenkins will be given the task of arranging for curlers' All Star team to oppose the Alberta junior champions.

Proceeds from the game will be placed in the club building fund. The Curling club executive are going ahead with plans for moving the curling rink from its present location to a site in the tourist park.

PEE WEE HOCKEY NOTES

Sunday, March 5, Game. The Legion retained possession of the league leadership by virtue of a 4-4 tie with the Lions, the latter still remaining one point behind in the standing.

This game was a thriller and checking close, fans were treated to a hockey game that left never a dull moment.

In the game between Elks and Pattinson's play was very even and its final score of 1-1 indicated that these rival clubs are evenly matched.

Improvement in play of the Pee Wees is very noticeable and the league championship will provide a calibre of hockey that will be exciting. The final games will be played on Sunday, March 12, at 2 p.m. Your support of the Pee Wees will be appreciated.

Local Midgets Southern Alberta Hockey Champs.

Defeat Lethbridge in Two Games, Play Exceptionally Good Games

Coleman Buffaloes, midget, hockey club, today reign as 1944 hockey champions of southern Alberta having won two games total goal series from Lethbridge Machinists 15-13. The local lost the first game 8-7 but came back strong in the second to win 8-5.

Coached by Mike Anderson and managed by Ray Spillers the local youngsters displayed a surprisingly good brand of hockey and skated stride for stride against their Lethbridge opponents. Coleman, while of stature, was the leading sniper in the first game with five goals. He gained one and three assists in the second game. Kryczka played a very good game on Saturday night and fired home three goals as well as assisting in another. The team as a whole was well balanced. Adolf in the nets was unfortunate to have the first two goals scored against him on Saturday night but despite this and luck played well. Anderson and Antenenko are two smart defencemen and broke up many dangerous plays. The forward lines held their own with opposing players and appeared to be superior when around the opposing team's net.

Lethbridge are a bunch of fast skating aggressive youngsters who played two mighty fine games and fought back to the last whistle.

MIKE HUDZ TO PLAY WITH EDMONTON CANADIANS

Mike Hudz, coach of the 1944 southern Alberta midget hockey club will join the Edmonton Canadians junior hockey club on Saturday morning as the team passes through Coleman enroute to Trail where they will play Trail juniors in an interprovincial series for the right to advance into the western Canada Memorial cup final.

Jimmy Slugg and Johnny Rypien have been playing with the team during the past season and will welcome the addition of their old playing mate on the ice beside them. Mike is a product of the local Pee Wee teams and is one of Coleman's outstanding younger players.

Miss Mary Snider, R.N., visited at Lethbridge at the week-end.

The Allied Air Offensive

RECENT ALLIED AIR ATTACKS on Germany have reached unprecedented proportions, and there is no doubt but that the results are devastating. In all democratic countries the people have high regard for human life, and concern for human suffering, so it is not surprising that there has been, from time to time, some discussion as to whether this great air offensive against Germany is fully justified. Allied authorities have frequently stated that only objectives of military importance are bombed, but it is inevitable that in raids of this extent, some damage must be done to the surrounding area. It must be remembered that attacks against military targets are in no way similar to the terror raids which have frequently been made on Britain, and which were a feature of Hitler's conquest of Europe. Germany is at war, and it should be expected that the lives and property of people living near military objectives will be endangered.

Nazis Started Mass Bombings

It should not be forgotten that the Nazis are the aggressors in this war, and that it was they who first planned mass air raids, and undertook to totally annihilate cities. They did not hesitate to attack Rotterdam, Warsaw, Stalingrad, and many other centres of population, without mercy. They would have destroyed London completely if they had not been turned back by the Royal Air Force, and they have caused great damage to many other British cities. When legitimate targets in Britain became too difficult to approach the Germans bombed cathedrals, hospitals, schools, and other purely civilian objectives, which were without anti-aircraft protection. In spite of all this, the Germans protest when Allied planes raid cities which harbor important war industries, and are heavily defended against air attack. It has been observed that it is to our credit that there has been discussion here as to the justice of mass air raids on Germany, but consideration of the facts leaves no doubt in this respect.

Germans Must Not Be Spared

At the end of the last war the Germans sought to ease the difficulty of their situation by appealing for sympathy, and it is expected that they will again try this method of avoiding the full responsibility for their crimes against other nations. Mr. Churchill, Mr. Roosevelt, and other Allied leaders have frequently stated that there must be no relenting on our part, and that we must not allow pity for the German people to stand in the way of victory and a lasting peace. This war has shown too clearly the true character of the German people for us to have any choice but to defeat them on their own soil, and to let them experience some of the hardships and horrors which they have chosen to inflict on other nations twice in less than twenty-five years. It is said that German military leaders realize that this war is lost, but that they are already planning means of conserving their resources for another attempt at world domination in the years to come. If this is to be avoided, and it must be, Germany's military power must be finally crushed now, without doubt or hesitation on our part.

Double-Action Way To Help Relieve BRONCHITIS

COUGHS • SORENESS • CONGESTION

Get right after painful bronchitis miseries... help relieve the coughing, congestion, and soreness this time-tested Vicks VapoRub way that is so successful!

Put a good spoonful of Vicks VapoRub into a bowl of boiling water. Then breathe in the steaming vapors for just a few minutes. With each breath you take, the medication goes straight to inflamed bronchial tubes where it soothes irritation, quietens coughing, and loosens tightness and congestion.

At bedtime rub Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest and back. Its positive-vaporization works for hours to bring you added comfort while you sleep.

Give And Take

Duke Of Marlborough Get One On The French Ambassador

Winston Churchill's great-grandfather, the then Duke of Marlborough, once had as his guest the French Ambassador, a cynical, disagreeable personage.

"The house, the tapestries, the pictures—were they all given?" he inquired. "And the Raphael—was that the gift of the King of Prussia? Is there anything here that was not given?"

The Duke listened to the Frenchman with growing annoyance. Finally, when he could endure the rude questioning no longer, he said, "If your Excellency will come with me, I will show you one of the glories of Blenheim which was not given."

Taking the visitor outside, he pointed to the stone trophies and the effigy of Louis XIV which adorn the south front of the house. "There," he said, "were taken, not given, by John, Duke of Marlborough, from the gates of Tournai."

Maple Trees

To Be Planted In English Cemeteries Where Canadians Are Buried

Maple trees are to be planted in English cemeteries where Canadians killed in this war are buried. J. A. Carroll, secretary of the Ontario Horticultural Association, told the association's 28th annual convention at Toronto.

Carroll said a shipment of maple seedlings was already on its way to Kew Gardens, near London, where the trees will be planted for a time and then transplanted to the cemeteries later.

HIS MOVE

Once again the sergeant was going over his instructions to a rather timid recruit taking his first turn of duty as a sentry.

"Understand this!" he snapped. "If anything moves, you shoot."

"Yes, sergeant," replied the recruit, speaking firmly for once, "and if anything shoots, I move!"

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q.—Can my hairdresser raise the price of a permanent?
A.—No. The prices charged for permanent waves are the same prices that were charged during the basic period in 1941.

Q.—We have been buying baby chickens from the same hatchery for years. Can they raise their prices from $17 to $20?
A.—Under Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations there is no ceiling price on baby chickens.

Q.—How much notice must I give my landlord when I wish to move?
A.—If there is no lease you must give one clear month's notice if you pay your rent by the month, and one clear week's notice if you pay by the week.

Q.—Has the maple syrup ration been increased?
A.—Yes. Maple syrup may be purchased on the basis of one coupon for forty fluid ounces until May 31. After May 31 the coupon will be worth 24 fluid ounces. The coupon value of corn, cane or any blended table syrup has been increased from 14 to 15 ounces.

Q.—Are we allowed to tear out our own ration coupons in a store, or must we give the book to the clerk to tear out the coupons himself?
A.—This is a question that is often asked. You do not have to give the book to the store clerk. You may tear out the ration coupons yourself, provided you do it in the store and in the presence of the retailer, or the clerk who is dealing with you.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book (the book in which you keep track of your ration coupons) mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

GARDEN NOTES

Seed Supplies Sufficient

While seed supplies will not be too plentiful, authorities are confident that there will be sufficient to go round. Before the war, seeds for Canadian gardens came from almost every part of the world. Most of the regular supplies are now out.

From Canadian and United States sources must come practically all of our garden seed supplies. Last year many Canadians tasted garden fresh vegetables for the first time in years. They came from the Victory Garden right at the door. They were amazed at how much better things tasted when grown in their own gardens. Grown quickly and picked just before cooking, vegetables are full of natural sugars and the vitamin content is especially high.

Spacing the Rows

After the soil is worked up into fine tilth, the earliest of the vegetables may be planted. These go in in rows from 12 inches apart and wider, depending upon the size of the mature plants. Carrots, lettuce, beets, parsnips, etc., can be planted in 12 inch rows, but beans, peas, tomatoes, corn and potatoes will need 18 to 24 inches.

If we are lucky enough to have a tractor or horse for cultivating, then of course there will have to be more space, and two to three feet between all rows is not too much. Not only because it will be very easy to do, but will also make cultivation easier, the rows should be absolutely straight and all plantings done along straight lines. Thus planted, we can be sure the seeds are in the soil where the seeds are and it will then be safe and easy to cultivate even before plants have started to sprout.

Peas, corn and such fairly large seeds are planted about one to two inches deep—fine seed like lettuce and carrots merely pressed in.

Custom Made Flowers

Through plant breeding and natural selection, flowers have been developed to suit almost any location. There are some which prefer darkish corners. There are stocks, nicotias, etc., specially designed to scent the evening air, and hard to believe perhaps, there are things like portulaca that actually seem to thrive on neglect.

There are little, short chaps like alyssum and dwarf marigolds and lobelias specially bred to fit along the front edges of flower beds or to trim walks. There are tall hollyhocks, castor beans, ornamental flowers which will make background and screen fences.

Y.M.C.A. Van

Two British Women Serve Tea Right Up On The Front Line In Italy
Right up near the Fifth Army front in Italy in a little Y.M.C.A. van are two British women—serving tea. As they drive to the front line, military police salute them and wave them through traffic jams, Canadian Y.M.C.A. headquarters learned.

They are brown-haired Lady Brocklehurst, wife of Colonel Sir Philip Brocklehurst, Cheshire, and her co-volunteer, Mrs. de la Pole Holland. Both are getting battle-hardened for serving tea to clamorous British troops makes it difficult to keep an eye on the battle-darkened sky at the same time.

Lady Brocklehurst was the first Y.M.C.A. woman in Italy. She gate-crashed into Sicily and there helped herself to a German radio van in Catania.

It is in this van that she has poured more than 1,200 cups of tea. The van follows the British front line troops on the Fifth Army front and has now been adopted by a division and given the right to carry the divisional sign.

Lady Brocklehurst, in her green windbreaker and issue stockings rolled down as ankle socks, is almost as well known as a general.

"I think they would let us through the German lines to get a cup of tea," she said. "They are great boys, and will like anything to get an extra cup. They steal your tin mugs but come up smiling. They thrive on action—and on tea—and it is a joy to serve them."

Prairie Flowers

Classified List Of Plant, Life In Manitoba Is Prepared

Among the different lines of research carried on at the University of Manitoba is that in the field of Botany, and Mr. Charles W. Lowe, assistant professor of Botany, has produced an impressive, classified list of all plant life in Manitoba. He names 1,400 flowers and ferns.

First in the estimation of Manitoba people is the Prairie Anemone, a beautiful flower, but also the herald of spring, which is a consideration. Professor Lowe's list is full of impossible scientific names, but the common names are also given and the habitat of each plant, in one or other of the five vegetation regions of the province, each with its own characteristics of soil and plant life.

Everyone is delighted to see the wild flowers in the woods and at the prairie in the springtime, but those who pride themselves on the number of wild flowers they can identify, may be interested to know that the late Norman Criddle found and named 400 within ten miles of his home in western Manitoba.

Professor Lowe's work is a creditable piece of research with definite scientific value.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Tumbling Mustard

Single Plant May Bear As Many As 1,500,000 Seeds

Tumbling mustard was first introduced into the Prairie Provinces from central and southern Europe about 1887. Each pod contains about 120 seeds and a single plant has been known to bear about 1,500,000 seeds. When the seeds are ripe, the whole head breaks off and is blown across the prairie, scattering seeds far and wide. As the seeds are not easily shed from the tough pods, a head may be blown about the prairie for a whole winter, dropping a few seeds at intervals for many miles.

A Main Course Without Meat

How is the "meat situation" at your house? We must not forget that rationing and shortage can never be used as an excuse for failing to measure up to the family's food requirements.

Meals are built about main course dishes—the vegetables and dessert are planned to round out a meal which has its character from the main course. We have come to think that the meat must be the item of central interest—and for a very good reason too. Foods of this type belong in any well-balanced menu as they provide an important part of the protein needed by everyone, every day.

Proteins are needed for the growth and repair of the human body. Proteins are not alike, and in general, protein made from animal sources is more efficient than that from vegetables—milk protein has all the essential parts. The vegetables richest in protein are dried peas and beans. If you can combine these excellent foods with milk, you will have achieved a protein dish that will worthily substitute for the meat of the main course.

Here's a recipe the family will enjoy eating and that you can serve with satisfaction.

BAKED LIMAS

- | | |
|------------------------------------|----------------------|
| 2½ cups dried lima beans | 2 cups milk |
| 1 cup diced celery | 3 tablespoons butter |
| 2 tablespoons chopped onion | 4 tablespoons flour |
| 5 tablespoons chopped green pepper | 1½ teaspoon salt |
| 2 dried hard-cooked eggs | 1 teaspoon pepper |

Wash beans, cover with cold water, and let stand overnight. Add salt, cook till tender and drain. Cook celery in small amount of boiling water till tender. Cook the onion and green pepper in the butter till tender but not browned. Blend in the flour, salt, and pepper and gradually add the milk. Cook, stirring constantly till the mixture is thickened and smooth. Add the beans, celery and eggs. Turn into greased dish and bake for ½ hour in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). Will serve eight.

Alice: "What makes you think your new photographs are so horrid?"

Gladys: "All my friends ask for one, and my friends don't."

"I hear there are twins at the Bates' house. Boys or girls?"

"I think one's a boy and the other a girl—but it may be the other way round."

Father: "There's plenty of time for our daughter to think of getting married. Let her wait until the right man comes along."

Mother: "Why should she? I didn't."

Employer (interviewing applicant for job): "Know anything about electricity?"

"Yes, Sir."

"What's an armature?"

"A chap who boxes for nothing."

Missionary: "Poor man! So you know nothing of religion?"

Cannibal: "Ah, yes. We got a taste of it when the last missionary was here."

Widower: "You are the sixth girl to whom I have proposed without avail."

Girl: "Well, maybe if you wear one when making your seventh proposal, you'll have better luck."

"No," snapped the old man, as he scanned the menu. "I won't have any mushrooms, waiter. I was nearly poisoned by them here last week."

The waiter leaned confidently across the table.

"Is that really so, sir?" he said, blandly. "Then I've won my bet with the cook."

Scot: "I want to rent a horse."

Groom: "How long?"

Scot: "Longest you got—there are five of us going."

Four Scholarships

For Women University Graduates To Spend Year In Britain

Four scholarships to enable women graduates of universities in the British Dominions to spend a year's research into wartime conditions in the United Kingdom have been offered by the British Council for 1944-45. It was announced recently by the registrar of the University of Toronto. The scholarships, valued at $300, will be open to qualified women graduates in any research field.

GERMANY'S SECRET WEAPON USED AT ANZIO BEACHHEAD LITTLE MORE THAN WAR TOY

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY. The new German "secret weapon" used against the Allied beachhead south of Rome turned out to be not of much importance.

It was a radio-controlled crewless tank, not a terrorist weapon and little more than a war toy. It stands about three feet high and weighs 700 to 800 pounds. Reports that they were loaded with 1,000 pounds of high explosive proved to be exaggerated. The actual load is about 100 pounds.

Allied officers described the tank as extremely vulnerable to anti-tank guns from a considerable range. It is so light and small that it can be deflected from its course by a stone or a ditch. It cannot be considered a formidable weapon.

Officers said that this "secret weapon" looked like a frantic invention by the Nazis who had boasted of a new weapon so long that they had to produce something.

The idea was to launch the miniature tanks into a wire belt or mine field and use them to clear a local area. When the first tank struck a mine both the mine and the explosion in the tank blew up, setting off other mines in the immediate vicinity. Then a second tank went in, followed by a third.

"The actual fact is that it's a bit of red herring," an officer said.

A despatch from Naples said that the new radio-controlled tanks were launched against the Allies last week but that Allied artillery exploded 11 of them before they reached the Allied lines.

FLOWN FROM BURMA

Wounded And Ill British Troops Taken Out By Plane

NEW DELHI.—During the just concluded Arakan battle in Burma more than 500 wounded or ill British troops were flown from the Mayu range front by British and American airmen. It was announced.

The air-taxi method of pulling out casualties from under the noses of the Japanese was introduced into this area six months ago by Wing Cmdr. A. J. M. Smyth of Wolverhampton, England.

Types of planes used were the British Fox and Moth. R.A.F. planes each brought back a single stretcher case and two sitting patients on each flight.

CAIRO.—Greek patriots led by a British officer derailed a German troop train Feb. 22 near Mount Olympus, killing 100 men including a Nazi general and members of his staff.

NAZI MILITARY AUTHORITIES MOVING MILLIONS OF FRENCH CIVILIANS FROM COAST AREAS

LISBON.—German military authorities, fearful of meeting the same conditions that hampered the French army in 1940, are evacuating nearly 5,000,000 French civilians from the coastal provinces to permit easy movement of motorized defence forces in the event of an Allied invasion.

Special trains are pouring into Paris daily, carrying thousands of evacuees from the Calais, Dunkirk and Boulogne districts. They mostly are children under 15 and men and women over 60, each wearing a red and white armband. They are allowed only the baggage they can carry.

The evacuation, ordered by Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt commanding the western defences, has a dual purpose for the occupation authorities. It will cripple the population's resistance and prevent the clogging of roads with thousands of refugees, a condition which hindered movement of French troops during the German invasion.

The influx of the millions of evacuees into Paris has left the French government with the responsibility of finding housing for the

ARE PREPARED

German Commentator Says Nazis Ready To Meet Invasion

LONDON.—Gen. Kurt Dietmar told the German home front in a broadcast that Allied invasion preparations have been completed, that gigantic land forces and sea and air armadas are standing by and "they are no bluff."

The whole world, the Nazi commentator said in a transmission recorded by The Associated Press, "is full of tense expectation."

"No landing operation ever carried out in any war can be compared with the one scheduled by the Allies now," he said. "It is certain that the preparations are completed and the forces are ready. We do not believe that these are demonstrations with the aim of luring German forces in the west while the Red army forces a decision in the east."

Dietmar warned that "We don't underestimate the belligerent characteristics of the Anglo-Americans."

"They are tough and confident," he said.

The commentator added, however, that the shore defences were ready and "our old front soldiers from the east have been through so many purgatories that the hell which the Anglo-Americans have in store for them will not be an extraordinary experience."

SAME OBJECTIVE

New Victory Loan Opening In April - Is For $1,200,000,000

OTTAWA.—Canada's Sixth Victory Loan will open April 21 with a $1,200,000,000 objective - $525,000,000 from individuals and $675,000,000 from "special names." Finance Minister Ilsley announced.

The special names group consists largely of corporations, life insurance companies and other investment funds.

"Borrowing needs for the continued prosecution of the war remain at very high levels," Mr. Ilsley said. "I am sure that once again Canadians everywhere will show their determination to support their fighting forces by a financial achievement greater than on any previous occasion."

The objective for the forthcoming drive, $1,200,000,000, is same as that for the fifth campaign, conducted from last Oct. 18 to Nov. 6, which rolled over the minimum quota with a cumulative total of $1,382,275,250, an over-subscription of $183,275,250.

The "special names" and general and payroll canvass quotas also are the same at $675,000,000 and $525,000,000, respectively.

ANOTHER MOTIVE

Food And Not Money Causing Most Crimes In Germany

LISBON.—Crime news appearing in German newspapers these days seems to be giving the lie to the old adage, "The love of money is the root of all evil."

A collection of criminal and police court items in recent issues of Nazi papers contain not a single case where cash was the lot of the lawbreaker. The motive, on the other hand, apparently was a desire for food, clothing or luxuries unobtainable for money at any price.

Canadian Officers Accept Chance To Serve With British Army

OTTAWA.—The defence department announced the first quota of Canadian army officers to be accepted for voluntary service with the British army has been filled.

The departmental statement said Defence Minister Ralston's recent announcement in the House of Commons that a considerable number of lieutenants and a per-portionate number of captains—largely from the Canadian infantry corps—would be accepted for service with the British army has met with an "instant response" from every part of Canada.

PLAN BEING WORKED OUT TO SEND HIGH QUALITY BEEF FROM CANADA TO BRITAIN

OTTAWA.—The government of Canada is now working on a plan to send high quality beef to Great Britain to assist in feeding the population of that country some surpluses now existing in Canada.

This announcement was made by Agriculture Minister Gardiner in parliament. The plan will be similar to that for bacon and ham, with a contract that will assure shipping being available to take the quantities of meat that can be shipped overseas.

The question had been raised in the house by J. G. Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre) on the relationship between the United States and Canada on beef. Mr. Gardiner said there was still in existence an agreement with the United States providing for export to that country of 293,000 head of beef cattle annually. In 1942 it was found impossible to feed the people of Canada and still supply the U.S. market with its quota. If cattle had been sold on the United States price level at that particular time Canada would have had no beef, not only for export to Great Britain, but also for home consumption. That is, if the price ceiling were to be maintained.

Canada had to make some attempt to control the marketing of beef or abandon price control. It had been decided to keep cattle in Canada as long as they were required. If there were surpluses, these were to go to Great Britain. These decisions were reached following consultations between both governments.

An arrangement currently existed under which the food board could purchase beef. When beef, not cattle, reached the floor price it could be bought by the board to send to Britain.

Up to the present none of the higher grades of beef had been materially below the ceiling and no necessity to purchase had existed until recently. Only beef that had been down below the floor price was "cow meat" and that was not the kind of meat Canada wanted to send to Britain.

"Iroquois" Chief

The agriculture minister explained that Canada, during the war, had the opportunity of doing a patriotic act and demonstrating to the British people Canada could supply good meat. After the war, if Canada continued to produce as many cattle as today, sooner or later a market for 300,000 head of cattle would be required.

"If we are not able to find the market on this continent, there is only one other place we can find that market," said Mr. Gardiner. "That market is Great Britain. We should establish the fact that Canada can produce beef which will compare favorably with the beef secured from elsewhere."

DEMobilIZATION DIRECTOR TO ASSIST AIRMEN IN GETTING ESTABLISHED AFTER THE WAR

OTTAWA.—Air Minister Power said in the commons that "personnel consultants" have been appointed to suggest that men be kept in the forces until work is found for them.

Maj. Power said it was common to suggest that men be kept in the forces until work is found for them. "I have no objection to that as a theory, but I fear it will not work out in practice," he continued.

The service departments should make preparations for the civilian career of men in the forces only to the extent they could be made while he was in the service. After the last war, men had been eager to get out of uniform. When the incentive to discipline to better combat the enemy was gone, men became bored and did not want to remain in their units. The intention this time was to help men and women in the air force to help themselves.

"Our men and women are not the type who want to become dependent on paternalism; they want to stand on their own feet."

The R.C.A.F. planned to provide them with information, advice and direction so they might be as self-reliant in peace as they had been in combat.

"This is not job placement; it is career planning so those who take advantage of it may have something of value to offer instead of being dependent on someone to give them a job."

Many of our airmen have endured the strains and hazards of a long tour of combat. Nothing will help them more to free themselves from the travail of war than a goal towards which they can plan and move. This goal we intend to provide.

DEMANDS COMPENSATION

CHUNGKING.—The Chinese government announced it intends to demand compensation from Japan for all war damage to both public and private interests since the Japanese occupation of Mukden, capital of Manchuria, in September, 1931.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

LONDON.—Traffic still is more dangerous than bombings in Britain. In January 560 persons were killed on the roads and 10,711 injured. Air raid casualties that month were 107 killed and 270 injured.

the woman being struck on the nose or from the body scratches; that in attempting to flee from the house by the only exit through the kitchen, she was struck down and there left without even a covering. Neither drunkenness self defence or provocation could be claimed as extenuating circumstances, therefore he asked the jury to give a verdict on the facts as presented by the evidence and accused's statement.

JOHN A. S. McDONALD
DEFENDS

Defence of Mr. McDonald for accused rested on the fact that the woman had gone to accused's home in the early hours of the morning uninvited, taking with her a bottle of whiskey. There she had taunted accused that she would go with another man, that he had tried to go to sleep, and that by her own actions in getting out of bed and threatening accused she had been the architect of her own end. He asked the jury to deliberate very seriously in arriving at a verdict, in order that justice should be given the accused in the light of the provocation he had undergone.

JUDGE'S SUMMING UP

This was brief, his lordship pointing out by which methods a verdict might be arrived at.

MANY WITNESSES

These included in addition to those in the foregoing report Dr. Gordon Mains, Carl Suplat, Adam Wilson, Joe Kapalka, Wanda Wenat, Sergeant Mulman, Constables Campbell, Bradley, Weston, McLean, of the R.C.M.P., Dr. MacGregor, pathologist of Edmonton, who reported on the analytical examination of the blood and hairs on the axe, the clothing of accused, etc.

Miss Helen Suplat was among the witnesses summoned, but was not called upon to give evidence.

Mr. Stephen Janostak of Coleman was court interpreter. The jury were K. Munro and J. Scott of Pincher Creek; H. Leeds of Claresholm; W. B. Rogers of Granum and E. R. Armour and E. Lundquist of Staveland.

Numerous photographs by Constable Campbell, R.C.M.P. were submitted as evidence of the interior of the house and the position of the slain woman, as well as articles of apparel and personal effects.

of Coleman, are sisters of Cpl. Price.

His citation reads as follows: "On Dec. 9, 1943, a squadron of an Armoured Corps unit, with a company of infantrymen, were assaulting the town of San Leonardo. Fierce enemy machine gun, mortar and artillery fire was being brought down on the attacking force in an effort to stop the advance. Part way through this fierce action, Corporal Price's tank was taken over and this N.C.O. was left on foot to make his way back to our lines. Realizing the need for every available tank man and gun in the attack this N.C.O. instead of returning, rallied the crew of a tank which had become a mechanical casualty, succeeded in repairing tank under intense fire and brought it into action, arriving at San Leonardo in time to aid in fighting off an enemy counter attack by twelve Mark IV tanks in support of infantry. This most conspicuous act of bravery and extreme devotion to duty materially assisted in the holding of the vitally important town of San Leonardo.

WEDDINGS

GIROS — SYGUTEK

A very interesting wedding took place at the Holy Ghost church on Saturday, March 4, at 2 p.m. when Annie, only daughter of Mr. Tom Sygutek and the late Mrs. Sygutek, became the bride of Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gibos, of Blairmore. The bride, entering the church on the arm of her father, was lovely in a white gown and a floor length bridal veil, held together by a wreath of pearls. She carried a bouquet of roses and chrysanthemums.

Attending the bride were Ann Simla, who chose a blue gown of net faconne, Freda Sygutek, who wore a pink gown, and Helen Ziajka who chose a blue taffeta. Each wore a flowered wreath in their hair and carried bouquets of tulips and daffodils.

Attending the groom were Tom Gibos, brother of the groom, Joe Galvan and Alex. Blazenko.

The matron of honor was Mrs. W. Glowatz, aunt of the bride, who chose a simple black crepe dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glowatz, where only immediate relatives and friends were present.

The happy couple will take up residence at Macleod where the groom is stationed with the R.C. A.F.

BANKING IS ADAPTABLE

...it changes constantly to meet
this country's changing needs

FOR INSTANCE...

Ever wonder where your ration coupons go? The answer is that your grocer takes your sugar, butter and other coupons to his bank, which acts as the government's agent in identifying and accounting for millions of spent coupons. This vast bookkeeping job—known as "Ration Coupon Banking"—is just one of the new, additional assignments which the banks have assumed as part of their wartime service.

Another is the payment, on behalf of the government, of certain subsidies arising out of wartime price control. Still another is the handling of exchange transactions as agents of the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

At the same time the banks have arranged facilities to serve military establishments and new war-industry centres alike.

Through loans to industry and agriculture, they have helped to increase the supply of raw materials, weapons and food.

They have acted as issuing agents for approximately $5,700,000,000 worth of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates, as well as lending direct financial aid to the government through short term loans.

...All this in the face of widespread staff changes resulting from enlistments of 8,360 trained bank employees.

The war emergency has proved the readiness and ability of Canada's banks to adapt their services to new conditions. It has proved, once again, the strength of your banking system, which is providing a firm base of financial service for the greatest economic effort in the nation's history, and will with equal resourcefulness meet the challenge of the years ahead.

THEATRE NOTES

One of the biggest pictures to hit the screen in 1943 comes to The Palace this week-end. It is "Stage Door Canteen" and stars 42 of the greatest names in Hollywood. In addition there are six of America's leading dance bands. It is a great show and is packed full of entertainment from start to finish.
 At Beljeue this week-end the comedy — "George Washington

Slept Here" starring Jack Benny and Ann Sheridan will be shown. It concerns a young couple with a dog. The dog chews the carpets in the apartment and Jack, Ann and the dog find themselves thrown out. They buy a house only to find that George Washington once slept in the building. Jack and Ann are then hard pressed to keep the home from becoming public property.

 At the Orpheum this week-end it is a double program. Richard Greene and Carla Lehmann star in "Flying Fortress" a war story and John Loder and Eleanor Parker appear in "The Mysterious Doctor." It is an exceptionally entertaining double bill.

Dear Friends: Received cigs. a few days ago, many thanks. We are having a fair winter and the flu hasn't been too bad. I hear that Coleman had a bad spell of Old Man Flu and I certainly hope you have him licked for this winter—A. MacQuarrie

Gentlemen: I wish to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the two pounds Xmas tobacco which I received Jan. 22. I also wish to thank you for every parcel of tobacco I have received from you. My only wish is to be back in Canada soon but not before this job has been completed. Best wishes for 1944—W. S. Volendord.

Dear Sirs: Received cigs. for which I thank you.—Bert Murray.

Dear Sirs: Just writing to thank you for the parcels of cigs. I am receiving from you each month. Since just before Christmas the mail has been very slow but today I received two parcels from you. For these and all the others I wish to express my thanks to all Legion members and the people of Coleman.—R. K. McLeod

Dear Sirs: I have just received two cartons of Sweet Caps from your Legion. Many thanks and a Merry Xmas.—L. Hoyle

Dear Sirs: Received cigarettes. Thank you—G. Kroesing.

Dear Sirs: Thanks a million for cigarettes received yesterday. Must say they came in real handy.—Reg. McMullen

Dear Sirs: Received the 600 cigarettes O.K. and they are more than welcome. Really there is nothing we could possibly enjoy anymore with the exception of a plateful of ham and eggs. Mere words cannot express our gratitude for the many comforts supplied to us here by the different service clubs, and the Legion tops them all.

I am doing just famously out here. Of course, some things do seem contrary to our beliefs but one can't change England and it is really only a matter of getting used to its strange customs.

I met a few of the former Pass residents namely Mickey Blake, Matty Woods, Goldin, Jones, J. W. Bell, Dan Daly and a few others with whom I was not very well acquainted. I also saw Jerry Seaman here one day but did not have a chance to talk to him—Tex.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

Deaths of Canadian children under one year of age in 1942 were at the lowest level in history.

Canada has approximately 34,450 women employed in mining, logging, transportation, communication and building trades.

Britons will not be able to resume a diet of plentiful meat and dairy produce before 1950, Col. J. J. Llewellyn, food minister, predicted.

Live stock marketed at Edmonton stockyards and plants during 1943 exceeded $50,000,000 in value, an increase of 17 per cent. over 1942.

Not a single private car will be on show when Britain puts on her first motor show since 1938 in London this spring. Instead there will be tanks, armored cars and trucks.

The German newspaper Hamburger Fremdenblatt announced that due to lack of vegetables the German government is planning to distribute vitamin pills through the country.

The London Sunday Observer said that Premier Stalin told a "leading member" of the diplomatic corps in Moscow that Russia has "no intention whatsoever of expanding into Central or Western Europe."

Germans killed 128 Russian children in the village of Mikhailovka near Dnepropetrovsk, the Moscow radio said, reporting the bodies had been found in a ditch—their toys buried with them.

The British Government has made a gift of $525,000 (about $2,362,500) to Jamaica for agricultural development in the island over a five-year period, the British Colonial Office announced.

This Week's Pattern

SIZES
12-40

By ANNE ADAMS

It's smart and it's new... that side-buttoning. And so very sensible. Pattern 4456 is adorably simple and comfortable. And note this too... the diagram shows you how easily it can be made. For the house try percale or chambray; a rayon fabric for better.

Pattern 4456 comes in misses and women's sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 30, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 16 requires 8½ yards 35-inch. Send twenty cents (20c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Write plainly Size, Name, Address and Style Number and send orders to the Anne Adams Pattern Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man. "Because of the slowness of the mails delivery of our patterns may take a few days longer than usual."

HIGH MILITARY AWARD

The Moscow radio announced that Admiral Sir Bruce Fraser, Admiral of the Fleet Sir John C. Tovey, Gen. Sir Harold Alexander and Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Harris had been awarded Russia's high military award—the Order of Suvorov first class.

ASSURED OF SUPPLY

As it is anticipated that record purchases of fertilizers will be made in Canada in 1944, the farmer who orders his fertilizer now and accepts early delivery will be assured of having his supply on hand when it is required.

Experienced gardeners often raise two to five times as much food as beginners from gardens of the same size.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

March 12

JESUS BETRAYED, DENIED AND CONDEMNED

Golden text: He was despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief. Isaiah 53:3.

Lesson: Mark 14:10-15:20.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 52:13-53:3.

Mark 14:10. And Judas Iscariot, he that was one of the twelve, went away unto the chief priests, that he might deliver him unto them. And they, when they heard it, were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently deliver him unto them.

And they led Jesus away to the high priest; and there came together with him all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes. And Peter had followed him afar off, even within, into the court of the high priest; and he was sitting with the officers, and warming himself in the light of the fire.

And as Peter was beneath in the court, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest, and seeing Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, Thou also wast with the Nazarene, even Jesus. But he denied, saying, I neither know, nor understand what thou sayest; and he went out into the porch; and the cock crew. And the maid saw him, and began again to say to them that stood by, This is one of them. But he again denied it. And after a little while again they that stood by said to Peter, Of a truth thou art one of them; for thou art a Galilean. But he began to curse, and to swear, I know not this man of whom ye speak. And straightway the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word, how that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

And Pilate again answered and said unto them, What then shall I do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews? And they cried out again, Crucify him. And Pilate said unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out exceedingly, Crucify him. And Pilate, wishing to content the multitude, released unto them Barabbas, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

ORANGES BY THE SHEET

Oranges pressed into sheets about the thickness of lightweight leather are being prepared in Palestine for export. Jerusalem reports the oranges are first dried into a pulp. Similar experiments, whereby other fruits may be offered for sale by the sheet, are now being conducted in Palestine. Fruit thus prepared is declared suitable for immediate eating and also for manufacture of marmalade.

REG'LAR FELLERS—This Side Up

Tea Time Treat—And Dinner Sweet

Here's a cake good enough to eat twice in one day. Mocha Cake, rich with spices and flavorful nutlike bran, topped with thick coffee icing, makes a delicious tea-time treat. Saves the bother of making sandwiches, or other tea snacks. Mocha Cake does double duty for you, too. For dinner dessert you can let 'em eat cake again!

MOCHA SPICE CAKES

1½ cup All-Brn 1 egg
½ cup milk ¾ cup sifted flour
½ cup shortening ½ teaspoon soda
¾ cup brown sugar ½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon salt ½ teaspoon cinnamon
Soak All-Brn in milk. Mix shortening, sugar and salt until creamy. Add egg and beat well. Sift flour, spices and soda together. Add sifted ingredients alternately with soaked All-Brn to creamed mixture. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. Frost with Mocha Icing.
Yield: 9 cup cakes (2½ inches in diameter). One 8x8 inch cake.

MOCHA ICING

1 teaspoon butter ½ teaspoon vanilla
1½ tablespoons hot coffee 1 cup confectioner's sugar
Melt butter in coffee. Add vanilla and confectioner's sugar. Beat until mixture is right consistency to spread. Sufficient icing for 9 cup cakes or one 8x8 inch cake.

Mosquito Control

Gas Attack Is The Latest Method To Be Used

United Nations armed forces have been using a new secret weapon—a lethal gas, known as D.D.T., which, it is said, kills all mosquitoes within a radius of three miles.

The disclosure was made at the final session in Montreal at the annual meeting of the Canadian Pest Control Operators' Association.

P. W. McLeod, of Vancouver, was elected president of the association. Western vice-president is Charles Riess, of Winnipeg.

MORE SHIPS AVAILABLE

Grain shipments by Great Lakes vessels will approximate 285,000,000 bushels in 1944 against 190,000,000 bushels this year. The increased volume will result from the return of 13 vessels from emergency ocean service and the addition of 16 new ships to the lake fleet.

FREE CANCER TREATMENT

Beginning on May 1, the Saskatchewan Government will provide free treatment and hospitalization for cancer, it was announced in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the Saskatchewan Legislature. In recent years treatment has been available at reduced charges through the two cancer clinics at Saskatoon and Regina.

Saskatchewan has provided free diagnosis, treatment and hospitalization for tuberculosis for the past 15 years, and the Province enjoys the lowest tuberculosis death rate in Canada, and perhaps the lowest of any registration area in the world.

Free treatment is also provided for venereal disease. The Province, moreover, provides free sera and vaccines for immunization for communicable diseases such as diphtheria, smallpox, whooping cough and scarlet fever.

The Government has announced plans to set up a department of labor and public welfare to bring under one administration various services that are now being managed by a number of departments.

BOY SCOUT FUND

The governor-general, chief scout for Canada, said in a broadcast address that a Chins Up fund of $42,000, raised in Canada by the Boy Scouts Association to assist British scouts, will be used after the war to help revive scouting in Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands, France, Poland and other countries.

DECORATED FOR VALOR

Zip, an Airhund belonging to Lieut. Gerald Mahoney of Montreal, in the Canadian Army, is to be decorated for valor by a dog society in London. The dog distinguished himself during the height of enemy raids by locating buried victims and saved other people from injury by falling ruins by dragging them to safety.

Air Travel

Should Be Encouraged By Government After The War

"It is to be hoped that once the war is over the government at Ottawa will see to it that every inducement is offered for the development of air travel from coast to coast and from the south to the farthest north. This will do much to open up the country and to encourage settlers to go into the most remote parts and there, using the word in its proper sense, exploit the natural resources," said the Right Reverend A. L. Fleming, D.D., Bishop of the Arctic for the Church of England in Canada, speaking to the Elgin Deamery Laymen's Association.

Advisory Commission

Smaller European Countries Asked To Submit Views On Handling Defeated Germany

The smaller European countries have been invited by the European Advisory Commission to submit their views on the handling of defeated Germany, to be co-ordinated with those of Britain, Russia and the United States in working out a master program to prevent future aggression.

A plan of liaison between the commission and Norway, The Netherlands, Yugoslavia, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Greece, France and other occupied countries is being worked out whereby the commission will have the advantage of all possible data for handling Germany and for other European problems, both in the prosecution of the war and afterwards.

think of that he'd want, but I can't find the right thing."

"Do you mean, Aunt Jennie, that you've really seen Uncle Perley in the cellar since his death?"

"I didn't actually see him, because I didn't dare to go down," Aunt Jennie explained. "But I saw his shadow from the top of the stairs, as plain as I see you; and he looked so droopy and sad."

"Now, Auntie dear," Ruth said briskly, "if I don't do another thing all summer, I'm going to find the natural explanation for this. Tomorrow we'll explore that cellar."

The search next day offered no solution to the mystery. The cellar was a large eerie room, the windows open to the air, securely screened. The furnace, Aunt Jennie's jam closet, old garments and carefully tied bags hanging from nails in the beams were the sum total of its contents.

"You see," Aunt Jennie pointed out, the outside door is bolted; the screens are nailed tight. No one could get in except from the kitchen, and I'm there all the time. I've had the walls whitened, the electric wiring all gone over, the chimney cleaned; I can't think who's left to do—but there's something."

The days passed pleasantly, but when night came Aunt Jennie was uneasy, and the light in the cellar was regularly turned on. But though Ruth kept a watchful eye from the top of the stairs, the nights passed with nothing unusual appearing.

One day a wind arising at sundown increased in volume and intensity until, at bedtime, the house was creaking and shaking in the grip of a northeast gale. Ruth, opening the cellar door to make her routine inspection, was about to turn away when a man's shadow suddenly appeared on the wall. It advanced quickly, hesitated, and then drew back. Ruth felt her knees grow weak. "You saw it?" whispered her aunt.

"Aunt Jennie," Ruth said, "I'm going down."

"No, No!" Aunt Jennie protested wildly, but Ruth with a palpitating heart went down the steps. Presently a strong gust of wind, whistling through the east window, blew across the cellar. A large bag of hops, suspended from the ceiling, swung out in front of the light. It cast a manlike shadow on the white wall.

Ruth called, "Come here, Aunt Jennie. I want to show you something."

Her aunt came down hesitantly. Ruth pulled the bag of hops over her face for the light. "Look, here's the ghost," she said. "The wind pushed this bag out in front of the light; see? This bunch at the top makes the head, and those rags hanging down look like arms."

"Lord bless me, so it is!" Aunt Jennie admitted joyfully. "That's old Perley, you know. Well, well! Of course that's it! Perley was always dead against saving the hops; he said it encouraged people to make booze. I remember he even said once, joking like, that if I raised hops after he was gone he'd come back and haunt me! And he'd clean forgot. Well, now, poor Perley can rest." She raised the bag, and the string slipped off the nail.

"But, Aunt Jennie, don't you see that this explains it all away?" Ruth ventured.

"Yes, it explains it all right," Aunt Jennie said happily. "Ruthie, you've done something wonderful for your old aunt. And you know a lot—about a lot of things. But I know Perley!"

Father Branch Publishes Nine
Weekly Papers In Southern Saskatchewan

A little more than 10 years ago a young man from Burnsville, N.B., came west to the d'smal south stricken area of Saskatchewan centered on Gravelbourg. He was a newly-ordained priest of the Catholic church and his main work was to be among the young people, mainly young lads of Boy Scout age.

This young man, Fr. J. E. Branch, promised to stay in the Gravelbourg area one year to organize the youth of the country. Ten years later, to that for matter, he has a flourishing troop of Boy Scouts and, as a result of finding an old battered printing press in a basement, which started the scouts on a publishing venture. Fr. Branch is now the director and editor of nine weekly newspapers in southern Saskatchewan.

Among the papers he publishes are the Fraser Valley Optimist, La Pinte Creek Star, Willowbank Beacon, Cremation Gazette, Rockglen Recorder, Cornacow Courier and the Cadillac Herald—also some monthly publications which deal with other fields. Not only has Fr. Branch spread himself in the world of the printed word. He is also a growing force with the spoken word through a radio program weekly from Moose Jaw which has a rating of 60,000 listeners.

All this, as Fr. Branch himself has said, from a little old battered printing press, almost out of sight in a basement. It was an idea that set his mind to work. The idea was to give his troop of Boy Scouts something to do, something that would be creative.

To use words written by Fr. Branch about the event, one evening, when the scouts were homebound bound from school, they noticed at the rear of the small scout hall a few men working. They were tugging and pushing the old pedal-driven Gordon press into the scout room. The next day was very cold but an effort was made to run the press, but the ink froze and would not make an impression. Aided by the warm sun of the next day, they got the machine to work and printed a small sheet of information that was distributed around Gravelbourg. Soon orders for printing came in and the scouts had something to do, the something that Fr. Branch had envisioned. Type was obtained nearby and in a 5x8 garage a business began with scouts as the operators.

In 1937 the first issue of the Dry Belt Weekly was printed. The first of the weekly papers under the direction of Fr. Branch. It rained and the name was changed to the Wheat Belt Weekly. Later it became the Prairie Optimist, the name it carries today. Today the nine weekly and other papers are printed in a well-selected plant, a former series of stores that had been boarded up, due to business failures. The scouts stuck with Fr. Branch, learned the art of typesetting and printing, and several of them are now serving in the navy, army, air force or auxiliaries.

Fr. Branch, in summarizing his efforts in producing the printed word, said: "What I consider as one of my best contributions to the district, as a Canadian citizen, is the organization of a business that created well-paid employment and a trade for a few dozen young men."

In 1942 Fr. Branch turned to the spoken word and aided by his press fought against a rising tide of discontent, distrust and disunity, to say his own words. Each week he is on the air on a Tuesday night with a "War Morale" talk and these talks are printed in pamphlet form under the title "Our Way of Life". The leadership which, as he says, he dared to take alone, has resulted in a li-

SUGGESTS REMODELING GOOD PRAIRIE HOBBY

(One of a series of articles about your community lumber merchant, by F. C. Pickwell, well-known western newspaper writer)

Many families in Canada and the United States have a fascinating hobby of remodeling buildings and old homesteads within recent years. Judging by photographic illustrations of final results they have made a surprisingly good job of the undertakings. Some men and women have a unique gift for that sort of thing, embodying a combination of architecture, construction work and landscape artistry. The undeveloped genius of home lovers thus blossoms in all its beauty. The desired setting generally hedges around romantic or and money permits. Any new material required is available at surprisingly low cost. The rest is largely spare-time work and individual initiative by members of the household. Few lack the inherent impulse to remodel and beautify their home.

What would you suggest as logical initial developments, from a practical and artistic viewpoint, based on your experience in community buildings as compared with modern improvements in cities?

"With the possible exception of water and sewage the city enjoys a little that town and country homes cannot have. The majority are now supplied with electricity, and many even have their private water system in residences and farm buildings—an important development of recent years.

"New modern city homes now aim at elimination of waste space. Basements and attics are frequently finished and furnished with the same care as other parts of the house and used for various purposes by the family. Insulation of walls and ceilings to a greater extent, coupled with air conditioning system is another improvement."

But how about the availability of necessary material and technical advice for such work in community centres throughout Western Canada?

"That is no longer a problem. Every local dealer who is a member of the Western Retail Lumbermen's Assn. either has a stock of material on hand for all working, or can secure it on short notice. In addition to lumber, several members of the association specialize in attractive supplies for the interior. Much of this not only insures ideal insulation, but a very nice finish to any room. Detailed information and technical advice may be secured on application to any community lumber merchants.

"Several inexpensive exterior additions also suggest themselves, such as sun room or verandah, a remodeled front entrance, a pergola or garden swing, bird houses and other features for our winged friends, thus providing an added charm to any home environment."

Some of these suggestions are illustrated in this article, in the hope that remodeling may become more widespread in the future. It is worth while from every standpoint. Architects who have specialized in remodeling old houses suggest two important points to be considered: the possibilities for rejuvenating a home, and then put into the rejuvenation the hard work and careful attention to detail necessary to make it an attractive property.

historic backgrounds enhanced by Nature.

This movement has been more in evidence at rural points accessible by car or bus to large cities. One of the unfathomable kinks in humanity is that city people frequently yearn for quiet open spaces, while country dwellers relish the thrill of pushing their way through crowded streets. Eventually a happy compromise may be reached. There are many picturesque locations in Western Canada and when airplanes replace automobiles to a greater extent distance will not matter so much. It is not suggested that old homesteads, filled with sentiment and cherished memories, should be replaced by modern recognition. But to preserve historic buildings desire occasionally against the idea of seeing much of this destroyed or sorely neglected.

These historic landmarks should be kept alive in some attractive form as an inspirational community influence. Lower Fort Garry on the Red River provides a striking example of what can be done in a large way.

Failing the means or inclination to erect a new home, what is the best alternative? That question was submitted to the Building Department of the Western Retail Lumbermen's Assn., Winnipeg, when this series of articles began, and their consideration. Their prompt response was:

"Keep what you have in the best possible state of preservation. That means periodical repairs, use of good paint more frequently, and occasional remodeling jobs as time

ANOTHER IDEA

The germ that has stamped the experts here has been explained. Two Swedish professors think it possible that "flu" epidemics have been started by bacteria pushed by the power of the sun's rays to the earth—from other planets.
